A fund’s income from dividends and interest and any net realized short-term capital gains are paid to shareholders as income dividends. A fund realizes capital gains whenever it sells securities for a higher price than it paid for them. Net realized long-term gains are paid to shareholders as capital gain dividends. A dividend will reduce the net asset value of a fund share by the amount of the dividend on the ex-dividend date. View the prospectus for more information.

When you open an account, all dividends and capital gains will be automatically reinvested in the distributing Fund unless you specify on your account application that you want to receive your distributions in cash or reinvest them in another Fund. Income dividends and capital gain distributions will be reinvested without a sales charge at the NAV on the ex-dividend date. You may change your distribution option at any time.
